YOU ARE THE MURDERER!

What REALLY happened? → You stole money from Lord Standford. It was easy because you were in charge of his accounts. But Lord Standford found out. Consequently, he wanted to fire you. He asked you to come to his office. You threatened to reveal his affair (you have access to his office so you saw the blackmail letter on the table). Lord Standford became very angry because he thought you wrote the letter. But you did not! You started to fight. During the fight, the Lord fell out of the window (which was opened). You were scared and you ran away. You later learned about his death and decided to hide your guilt.
